

WIN A LESSON WITH TINA CANTON AND AN AWARD-WINNING NEW POLLY HAT!

Polly Products has been a local company for some 25 years, well-known for its quilted, easy to use travel bags and saddle pads. The Company was recently transferred to another local firm, Eastwood Equine Consulting Ltd, with Tim Eastwood as Managing Director and Kate Meehan as Sales Director, backed by their wealth of equine experience. They sponsor local events and trainer Tina Canton from Tinderbox Event Horses at Coddington near Newark. Polly Products launched their innovative new riding hat and won an award at BETA. Now it's YOUR chance to win the fantastic new Polly hat and to have a training session on your own horse or pony with Tina at her yard (date to be arranged to suit both parties). Tina teaches flatwork and show jumping, plus cross-country theory - how to ride a line, turns, corners, narrow fences etc. The winner can choose which they do. Tina concentrates on bringing on young horses after breaking; she likes educating them and taking them to their first show as it is so vital to give them a good start.

Featuring items from their range, Polly Products also put together an ideal starter pack or gift comprising the essential horse owners' equipment for the modern day equestrian. It contains one set of cotton, easy-fit extra-padded travel bags; multi-purpose, quilted cotton saddle pad, elasticated, padded cotton tail guard; a utility legging pattern 280g fleece rug with cross surcingles and elasticated removable leg straps; two-tone webbed nylon, adjustable headstall with brass plated fittings and colour co-ordinated cotton lead rope with brass trigger clip.

We will be following-up our competition with an article on Tina and, who knows, YOU may also get to appear in the magazine if you win the lesson and hat!

To have a chance of winning, turn to page 73 and answer the question.
